

SHIMON AND TAMMAR

Taken By Storm

Price Catalog

Series of photographs originated from 4x5, 120, 35mm transparency films. The original film are images of still life and portraits.

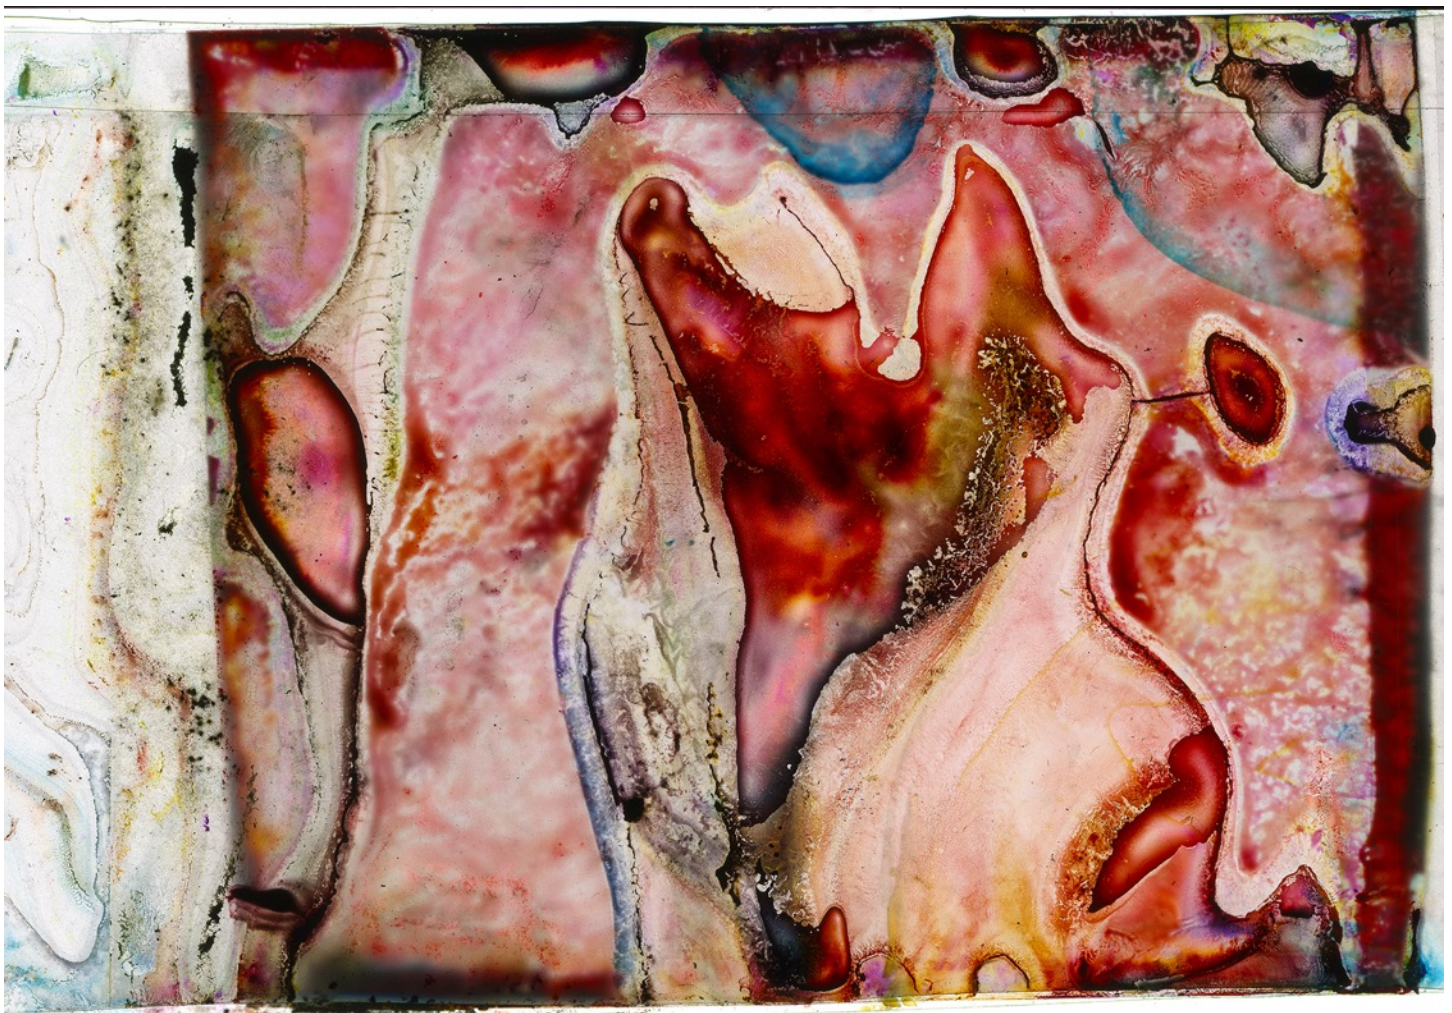

The photographs were soaked in water of the Hudson River; a result of a flood caused in 2012 by Hurricane Sandy.

We chose to keep the original transparencies in the flood water for two years. In 2014 we took out the transparencies, scanned the original film to high-res digital files.

The water penetrated into the thin layers of the emulsion caused the colors to dissolve and separate. Molds fermented on the surface and tiny salt crystals emerged.

All editions are numbered and signed. The art work Printing and framing is on demand.
